PREFACE

The Historical Volume Church Records Western Pennsylvania Conference of The United Methodist Church was last printed in 2003. In order to keep the Church Records current, Janet & Norman C. Young were retained to update the more recent appointments and make necessary corrections as new information became available. Since their death, Naomi Horner has graciously volunteered to continue updating the volume. New information comes from the readers making corrections and suggestions. New information also comes from Naomi's continued research on the companion volume Pastoral Records. The Western Pennsylvania Commission on Archives & History decided to make this revision and update available on these webpages www.wpaumc.org so that the most current information remains accessible and for corrections to continue to refine the document.

This volume has had long history of Revision. Described by Herbert E. Boyd in his 1957 volume on the Erie Methodist Preface as a "compendium...intended primarily as an administrative tool." He then credits forerunners back to 1898. At that time, this primarily contained Pastoral Records. Grafton T. Reynolds edited for the Pittsburgh Methodist Episcopal Church a similar volume through 1927. W. Guy Smeltzer divided his 1969 revision between chapters on Pastoral Records and Church Records. Raymond M. Bell followed the same chapter division when he added Evangelical United Brethren in 1991. Norman C. Young who had worked on the Methodist Protestant section in the 1969 volume required us to divide the Church Records (2003) and the Pastoral Records (2012) into separate books because of the sheer volume of the material collected. With Naomi Horner's contributions the Western Pennsylvania Commission on Archives & History is hoping to eventually publish a three volume set.

ALLISON

METHODIST EPISCOPAL – PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT

1888-1901

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In 1888 when Mathilda Allison sold the remaining property making up the Allison Farm to Charles E. Wood and W. E. Harmon, developers of Allison Park, she reserved one lot which she conveyed to the Allison Methodist Episcopal Church. Not much is known of the history of this church but we do know it was located on a spot which later became known as “Gospel Hill”, and the property with its building, was later sold to Mr. Herman J. Keppeler of DeHaven, and became the first building occupied by Saint Ursula’s Roman Catholic Church from 1909 to 1928.

Pastors: Allison/Glenshaw: J. D. W. Hazelton 1891-1892; William H. McBride 1892-1893; To Be Supplied 1893-1894; J. R. Bly 1894-1896; Allison/Evergreen: J. R. Bly 1896-1898; Ralph Bell 1898-1901;

History: Methodist – Pittsburgh Conference. Organized in the home of Edward and Caroline Odenbaugh, with the first service April 19, 1959 and Reverend William LeRoy Jones, Associate Pastor at Ingomar Methodist Church officiating. Under the guidance of Dr. James Lewis Carraway, Allegheny District Superintendent; Reverend Ernest Vernon May, executive secretary of the Conference Board of Missions and the Methodist Church Union, and the Ingomar Community Methodist Church, a small congregation gathered. Reverend Howard Hugh Bright, Jr., was appointed as the first pastor at the 1959 Conference. The group moved to the Middle Road Fire Hall, where Charter Day Services were held December 13, 1959, receiving 42 members. The Church Builders Club of the Board of Missions and the Board of Lay Activities contributed toward the erecting of a multi purpose unit, which was consecrated August 14, 1960 by Bishop William Vernon Middleton. In December 1964 the first level of an educational building was ready for use. The membership in 1968 was 316. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 220.

Location: Located at 400 Center Avenue, which is the corner of Center Avenue and Fourth Street in the Borough of Aspinwall, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. On March 23, 1893 the First Methodist Church of Aspinwall was organized in the home of H. A. Stout. In charge was the Reverend William D. Sease, then pastor of the Union Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church in Sharpsburg. Eighteen persons were present to be received as Charter Members. From 1893-1895 it was on a circuit with Simpson Church of Allegheny and met in the Aspinwall Public School Building. In 1895 a Sunday school was organized. A building program was initiated and the original church was dedicated on November 3, 1895. In 1931 the old building was remodeled, enlarged and bricked. It was dedicated March 6, 1932. In 1981 the congregations of Aspinwall and Blawnox merged and formed the Community United Methodist Church with services still being held in each church until 2010.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL - BALTIMORE CONFERENCE

1800

Mailing Address: 939 California Avenue, Pittsburgh 15202

412/761-3221

ID: 101148

Location: Located at 939 California Avenue at North Home Street in the Borough of Avalon, on Ohio River Boulevard, west of Pittsburgh, in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Baltimore Conference. Although in Avalon it is mostly referred to as Bellevue: Greenstone. It was organized as a Methodist Episcopal Congregation of the Pittsburgh Conference. This congregation developed from the Class formed in the John Rodenbaugh home on the original Shenango Circuit of the Baltimore Conference in 1800. The Rodenbaugh home was at the north edge of the city of Pittsburgh near the intersection of Ivory Lane and Route 19. The class was divided in 1812 and the segment that was to become the Bellevue Church was known as the Robert Quail Class. Robert Quail's beautifully written Quarterly Meeting Minutes of the Shenango Circuit are a treasured possession of the Bellevue Church. In 1813 a log Church was built in Ross Township near the northern boundary of the Borough of Bellevue. The property is still in the possession of the Church and is used as a cemetery. Sometime around 1830 the congregation moved to Hopewell, exact location not known. From there they moved back to the Quail farm, then to Jack's Run where, in 1850, a Church was built and named Fleming Chapel in memory of Thornton Fleming, early frontier Presiding Elder. It was a part of the Manchester Circuit until 1858. Until 1873 it was part of the Allegheny Circuit, then from 1873 to 1875 it was the Bellevue and Blackburn Charge. In 1875 the first Church was built in what was then West Bellevue, now Avalon. It became a Station appointment in 1875. A second frame building was erected in 1899, and the new Greenstone building in 1906. The educational wing was added in 1926. The membership in 1968 was 1,016. In 1982 the name was changed from Bellevue: Greenstone to Greenstone. The membership on January 1, 2002 was 532.

History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. The church was organized in 1832 in the home of Ralph Lee. The first church building was erected in 1838. It was a white frame Church and was built on land purchased from James Jones. This first Church burned in 1859 and a red brick Church was erected in 1860. This building was gutted by fire in 1890 and repaired in 1891. On various Circuits in its early years, its relation with the Bairdford Church commenced in 1896 and continued until 1957. The Fox Chapel Church was a part of the Charge from 1935 to 1953. The church attained Station status in 1957 and in 1959 a New Church building was erected on a hill-overlooking Route 8. The old Church in the village of Bakerstown was sold to the then adjoining Presbyterian Church in 1959. In 1960 a parsonage was built beside the new church. At the ground-breaking service on May 3, 1959, Mrs. Matilda Crummy, the oldest living member of the Church, whose husband, Lee Crummy, was the grandson of Ralph Lee, in whose home the Church was born, lifted the first shovel of earth. The membership in 1968 was 320. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 512

History: Methodist – Pittsburgh Conference. The congregation grew out of a Church school class composed of eight children in the home of Mrs. Frank R. Garman on Baptist Road. The original founders of the Church school and the leaders in the development of a Church were Mrs. Frank R. Garman and Mrs. Frank B. Madden. In order to accommodate a Church and Church school, the program was moved to the Union School in 1945 under the guidance of Dr. Thomas R. Courtice, first Pastor of the congregation. In 1946 the Church was organized with a charter membership of eighty-five members under the leadership of Dr. David Jones Wynne. A first unit of the Church building was constructed in June 1948 which housed the Church and a social hall. A second building including classrooms for education purposes was constructed in 1952. A new Sanctuary and social hall was added in 1956. A completed education wing was dedicated in December 1960. The congregation has been built on a basis of a community Church serving many of the civic and social community groups, yet fully organized as a Methodist Church and from its inception, a member of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference and later the Western Pennsylvania Conference of The Methodist Church. Since 1946, Baldwin Church has consistently grown from 85 charter members to a membership reported in the 1968 Journal of 3,076 and a Church school of approximately 2,000 enrollment. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 2022.

History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. Organized on Sunday August 26, 1866 at the home of charter member Hugh Claney by Reverend James Robinson and Reverend Valentine Lucas. It was originally intended to be a Union Church, the original membership being about equally United Presbyterian and Methodist Protestant. The Methodist Protestant members came mainly from the East Commons Church, later known as the First Methodist Protestant Church of Allegheny. Land was purchased from Congressman Andrew Bayne, a United Presbyterian for $200 with the stipulation that a fence be erected around the building. Construction was commenced immediately but funds were insufficient to complete it. The Pittsburgh Methodist Protestant Conference agreed to advance the money provided if it were organized as a Methodist Protestant Church. The building was dedicated on September 30, 1866. A new Church costing $50,000, erected on the original lot, was dedicated April 19, 1903. The original frame building was moved back on the lot, veneered with stone, and the new building added to the front. The older section was used as Sunday School rooms. The pipe organ was a gift of Andrew Carnegie. The original parsonage stood immediately behind the Church on Sprague Avenue. Later the lot on which it stood was sold to the Borough of Bellevue and was made into a parking lot. In the late 1950's the parsonage at 154 Watkins Avenue was purchased. The membership in 1968 was 158. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 125. Church Closed November 29, 2009 and the records went to the District Office.

Location: Located at 44 Highland Road and Oxford Drive in suburban Pittsburgh in the borough of Bethel Park just off Route 19 South of Pittsburgh in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist – Pittsburgh Conference. After World War II, as suburban population began to move farther south from Pittsburgh, the Conference purchased land for a new Church in the Bethel Park area and in 1949 Reverend Harry N. Peeler, Jr. was appointed to organize a new congregation. The first service was held with 27 members on October 30, 1949. The Church was chartered April 13, 1950, by which time the membership had grown to over 200. The first unit of the building program was opened for services on Easter Sunday, April 13, 1952. In May 1959, ground was broken for three educational units, a Sanctuary with Educational and Administration wings. These were opened for use April 3, 1960. In 1968 this was the largest Church in the Western Pennsylvania Conference with a staff of five ministers and reporting a membership of 3,309. In 1961 this large congregation adopted the device of organizing the membership into four Societies each ministered to by one of the ordained ministers on the staff. These societies were given historic names, namely: Aldersgate, Bristol, Epworth and Oxford. The purpose of the plan was to maintain the warmth and fellowship of the smaller church for the members while retaining the strength of a large congregation. The membership on January 1, 2001 was 3,298.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In the summer of 1880 the Reverend Dermit, a Local Methodist Preacher, was authorized by Reverend Thomas Newton Boyle, Presiding Elder of the Allegheny District, to organize a Methodist Society in Hoboken, as the community was named at the time. A society of ten members was organized with Mr. A. Hoey as Class Leader. A lot was purchased from W. Hackey and the Church was built in 1881, being dedicated on December 11th of that same year. Reverend John Henderson was appointed pastor of the Hoboken Methodist Episcopal Church in 1883. He was dissatisfied with Methodist Episcopal polity and in October 1884 led almost all of the congregation to transfer to the Methodist Protestant Church. Failing to obtain the Methodist Episcopal property, they built the Hoboken Methodist Protestant Church. Rev. John Henderson organized the Fox Chapel Methodist Protestant Congregation in 1891 and served it along with Hoboken Methodist Protestant Congregation until 1909. He served Hoboken continuously until his death in 1930, after which the Methodist Protestant congregation dissolved. Meanwhile the remaining Methodist Episcopal members re-organized in July 1886. It has been on circuits at various times with Tarentum, Walter's Chapel, Harmarville and more recently with Fox Chapel and then Aspinwall. In 1981 Blawnox and Aspinwall merged to form the Community: North Shore (later called Pittsburgh: Community) with services still being held in each church. Blawnox transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004. The building was finally closed around 2010. The records went to Aspinwall Community UMC.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In 1831 Reverend Charles Elliott and Reverend Wesley Browning, the preachers at the Pittsburgh Station, made a preaching tour of about twenty miles east of Pittsburgh in the territory between the Youghiogheny and Allegheny Rivers. At the conference of 1832 the Braddock's Field Mission was created and Reverend Jacob Keiss Miller was assigned to it. Braddock was one of the Societies organized on that large Mission Circuit that year. The first meetings were in a cabin in the Port Perry area. Starting in 1842 the Society met in a home on Jones Avenue, now in North Braddock. In 1855 the Society moved its meeting place to a brick Schoolhouse on Bell Avenue. In 1856, when Reverend Benjamin F. Sawhill was assigned to the Port Perry Charge, he organized the Braddock Church and Sunday school from the members of the Society that had been meeting in the School. The first building was erected at Tenth and Braddock Avenues in 1859 and known as Seller's Chapel. In 1875 Braddock became a Station. A new building was erected under the leadership of Reverend Thomas Newton Boyle in 1890. In 1987 Braddock: First and Jones Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church merged to form Braddock: New Life United Methodist Church. In 1990 New Life Church merged with Turtle Creek: McMasters United Methodist Church and the New Life Church was closed. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Started with a Mission Sunday school in 1894. Church construction started with ground breaking in August 1894 and building started on Thanksgiving Day in 1894. The building was completed in February of the following year and was dedicated by Reverend Dr. Charles Wesley Smith. The Church was on a circuit attached to Swissvale and Port Perry and known as Shady Park Church, with Reverend John J. Davis as Pastor. With the coming of Reverend David M. Hollister in the fall of 1897 Shady Park became a Station severing its connection with the rest of the circuit. In the fall on 1901 under the Pastorate of Reverend Titus Lowe the Church was incorporated under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania and became known as the Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal Church. On September 16, 1923 the corner stone was laid for a new building and on February 24, 1924 the completed building was dedicated by Bishop Francis John McConnell. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 96. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004. Church closed December 31, 2009 and the records went to the District Office.

History: United Brethren – Allegheny Conference. The history of this church dates back to the early 1840s. The first authentic date is 1852. From 1852 to 1872 Braddock was served by the pastors of the Wilkensburg church. In 1872 it was made the Pittsburgh Mission. A Church, Soles Chapel, was built at the top of Cemetery Road. It was dedicated in 1875, and became known as the Jones Avenue United Brethren Church. In 1888 what was to become the Cromie Avenue Church was organized. It was on the other side of the railroad tracks. These two churches united in 1911. A new building was dedicated May 9, 1912. Since 1918 the congregation has been supporting Miss Naomi Wilson, daughter of Reverend J. W. Wilson, a former pastor, as their missionary at Moyamba, Africa. In 1987 Braddock: First Methodist and Jones Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Churches merged to become Braddock: New Life United Methodist Church. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

Location: At the corner of Grandview Avenue and Willow Street in the First Ward, North Braddock, in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – German Central Conference. It became a church in the Pittsburgh Conference at the dissolution of the Central German Conference in September 1933. Reverend Dietrich Worthman and a group of Baldwin Wallace students organized a Sunday school of German speaking Methodists. The Brinton Avenue Presbyterian Church loaned the basement of their church for this purpose. Quickly outgrowing these quarters, a new site was purchased and a commitment to donate the buildings was received from Miss Minnie Muhleman in memory of Captain Charles Muhlmann. The cornerstone was laid in 1914. It has been until recent years (the 1980's) a Station appointment, and then shared with Braddock: Fourth Street. The membership on January 1, 2002 was 90. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

Location: On the corner of Lydia and Washington Avenue in Borough of Carnegie, three miles south of Pittsburgh in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Reverend James Graham began Methodist services in 1855 in a wool house owned by Mansfield Brown and Hugh Lee. In 1857 Reverend James Beacom, pastor of the Chartiers Circuit, organized a group at a meeting in the home of a Mr. Cook on Washington Avenue as the Rich Valley Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Brown donated the church lot and the first Church was erected on it in 1859. In September 1861 Samuel Nixon, Class Leader of a Class in the Wrenshall Church at Woodville, merged his Class with the new church. It became a Station appointment under the name of Mansfield in 1867. The town and church name was changed to Carnegie in 1893, honoring industrialist Andrew Carnegie. The new Church replaced the first building in 1892, and it was completely renovated in 1957. A parsonage was built in 1900 and was replaced by a new parsonage purchased in 1965. The membership in 1968 was 564. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 353. On October 11, 2016, Castle Shannon UMC merged with Fairhaven UMC, at which time the Pittsburgh: South Hills Partnership consisted of Carnegie, Fairhaven, Hill Top and Spencer United Methodist Churches.

History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. The congregation emerged from meetings held at the Arlington Camp Meeting Association. A Sunday School was organized in 1879 by those inspired by the ministry of the camp meetings. The congregation began its life as a mission church under the guidance of Fourth Church, Pittsburgh. In 1884, and under the pastorate of Reverend John Fletcher Dyer, this mission congregation became the Castle Shannon Methodist Protestant Church. Miss Ann Irwin gave the land upon which the present church was built and dedicated in 1888. During the tenure of the Reverend John William Hawley, church schoolrooms were added to the church building. A distinct and separate educational and learning facility was built in 1966-1967; and was consecrated by Bishop Frederick Buckley Newell on April 30, 1967. The membership in 1968 was 398. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 144. History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Organized in 1843 by Reverend Abner Jackson, serving the Chartiers Circuit. Appointment was known as Middletown until 1886 when the name of the Borough was changed to Coraopolis. After meeting in a private home for six years, the first church was erected in 1849 at the end of Main Street. A second building was erected on the corner of Main and Fifth in 1876. This church burned in 1890 and a third building was erected in 1894 on the corner of State and Fleming. The new building was begun in 1922 and completed with the dedication being held on May 17, 1925. From 1858-1891 Coraopolis had been an appointment with Shousetown (now Glenwillard). With the completion of the third church building in 1894, Coraopolis became a station. The membership in 1968 was 756. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 695.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The congregation began October 12, 1883 with 10 charter members in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spees, located in the railroad station building. Land was given the Society by Charles C. Craft and a chapel was dedicated October 12, 1884, known as the Crafton Methodist Episcopal Church. Until 1889 it was on a circuit with Chartiers, Wesley Chapel and Duquesne Heights. Charter changed April 28, 1898 to read “First Methodist Episcopal Church of Crafton.” Changed again August 17, 1951 to “Crafton Methodist Church.” The old chapel was razed in 1898, and a new building constructed on the same site dedicated 1899. An Educational Building was erected 1925-1926. A new sanctuary was added May 16, 1961. The membership in 1968 was 764. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 259. The church closed April 3, 2016 and the records came to the Conference Archives.

Location: Located at Stratmore and Oakmont Streets in the Crafton Heights section of the city of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Two Deaconesses made a survey of the community then known as West Pittsburgh under the direction of the Presiding Elder Thomas Newton Boyle in 1901. The congregation was organized in 1902 by Reverend Charles T Murdock. The first Church was erected on lots on Oakdale Street purchased by the Church Union in 1902. Services were held in a tent from May until Christmas Day in 1902 when the services were moved to the basement of the Church. The Charter is dated May 24, 1904. The white brick Church building was dedicated by Bishop Francis J. McConnell November 9, 1924. It was named the West Pittsburgh Church until 1915 when the name was changed to Crafton Heights. It was always a Station appointment. The membership in 1968 was 339. Crafton Heights and Lorenz Avenue merged in 1982 and became Emanuel.

Location: Located on the Dutilh Road and Saint Francis Way where the Pennsylvania Turnpike crosses Route 19 in Butler County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Dutilh was organized in 1844 with four families who held services in Jones' barn. In 1853 a church 16 feet square was built, known as "Little Plains Church". In 1858 the building was enlarged. Six acres of land was donated by Charles Dutilh, a Philadelphia exporter from Holland, and the new building was erected and named "Dutilh" in honor of the donor. It was dedicated on November 30, 1879. In 1926 a basement was put beneath the building. In 1940 a cemetery association was formed. In 1946 an addition was built to the front of the church. In 1951 it became a Station appointment. In 1953 The Methodist Church Union donated additional ground and a brick parsonage was erected. In 1956 more land was purchased. In 1962 Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Taylor gave another one and one-half acres. In 1964 a modern brick education building was erected at a cost of approximately $65,000.00. In 1968-1969 new pews, new carpet, and a re-designing of the seating arrangement has improved and beautified the sanctuary, and the debt on the educational building was greatly reduced. The church burned and was replaced in the 1990's. The membership in 1968 was 359. The membership in 2003 was 1413.

Location: At 1641 Potomac Avenue and Mattern Avenue in the Borough of Dormont in the South Hills section of suburban Pittsburgh, in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This church had a three-fold origin. Wesley Chapel in Greentree originated about 1837 and was incorporated in 1867. Its property was sold in 1920 and the congregation merged with Dormont. The Banksville Church had its origin in the home of William Marshall, a Methodist Local Preacher from England in 1853. This home, and the Church building erected in 1869, was located on the Old Banksville Road. This congregation sold its building and merged with the Dormont congregation on November 24, 1918. The Dormont Church held its first service in the Dormont Masonic Hall July 8, 1917. It was incorporated November 6, 1919 with a membership of 101. Its charter was granted on December 4, 1919. The cornerstone of the new brick Church building was laid on September 12, 1920, and the first service was held in it March 31, 1921. This new Church was strong enough to entertain the Pittsburgh Annual Conference session in 1922. The building was renovated in 1960, and the sanctuary was renewed in 1966. The membership in 1968 was 710. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 186. Dormont closed in 2013.

History: Methodist – Pittsburgh Conference. Began as an Inter-denominational Church in an abandoned school house with their first worship service held on March 24, 1946. A group of ten people who felt the need of a Church in a rapidly growing community thus began and became known as “King’s Chapel” keeping the name of the school building they converted. They could not remain inter-denominational. The Methodist Church began giving some direction through Reverend Oscar Burdeth Emerson, pastor in Castle Shannon, Dr. Albert G. Curry, Superintendent of the Washington District; and Reverend Lemon Dorsey Spaugy. After voting to become Methodist on May 21, 1947, thirty-five charter members were received including four of the original ten from the King's Chapel group, namely, Norman E. Lancaster and his wife, Roseanna, along with Samuel E. Cox and his wife Marion. In October 1947 Watson S. Custer, a student, was assigned as first pastor until 1948. It was then attached to the Bridgeville Church and served by Reverend Clark Russell Kerr until 1952. In 1952 it became a Station and Reverend Frank Irvin Snavelly was assigned as pastor. The original school building was enveloped in a new building including a sanctuary and consecrated March 27, 1952. Additional property was purchased, and growth reached 651 members by 1958 when Reverend Herbert Lyons Costolo became pastor. During his pastorate an Educational unit was consecrated September 25, 1960. The membership in 1968 was 964. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 697.

History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. The first Church to be organized in the Borough of Fox Chapel. On July 1, 1891, Eliza Fox Teats and her husband William J. Teats, deeded a plot of land to those first elected to be Trustees of the Fox Chapel Methodist Protestant Church and their successors. The Church was named on honor of Eliza Teats' father, John Fox, who owned much of the surrounding farmland. Along with those first few families, the Reverend John Henderson is credited with organizing this church which he served for seventeen years. In 1914 the original one-story frame building was remodeled, with the addition of a basement and a steeple with a bell. On Palm Sunday of 1958, the congregation held its first worship service in a new brick building about one block from the original site. Though the church is considered a station being served by a single pastor, at various intervals prior to 1958 it was yoked with neighboring Methodist Churches in Bairdford, Bakerstown, Blawnox and Sharpsburg. The name was changed to Fox Chapel: Faith in 1990's. Later it became part of the North Shore Co-operative Parish consisting of Bairdford, Community (Aspinwall/Blawnox), Harmarville, Sharpsburg: Grace, Millvale, Millerstown and Walters Chapel. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 139. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Located at Center Street in the Borough of Glenfield, one block east of the Ohio River Boulevard in Allegheny County. Originally known as Thorn Chapel, the early records of the Church have been lost, though it is known to be over one hundred years old. Glendale is the name formerly given to Glenfield, PA. In 1940, the Methodists acquired the property of the Presbyterian Church in the town and moved into it, the remaining Presbyterians in the community joining the Methodist congregation. In 1968, the future of the Church was in jeopardy due to the construction of Interstate Route 279. The membership in 1968 was 95. Glenfield UMC closed in 1969.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The appointment was on the Redstone Circuit from the Baltimore Conference. This church had its origin as a Union Sunday School in a small building called Hope Church located at Six Mile Ferry, where the Glenwood Bridge is located, about 1842. The Methodist Society in the Streets Run community seems to have been organized as a result of a successful revival. The leading members of the new Society had been members of the Franklin Church, later known as Anne Ashley Memorial. When Reverend Joseph P. McKee came to the Circuit that both Franklin and the Streets Run Societies were on in 1885, he immediately set plans for the building of a Church for the Streets Run Class. The first Church building was erected in 1886. The Church continued to be linked with Anne Ashley Memorial until 1902. That year a second Church was built and it became a Station appointment. The construction of a new highway caused the demolition of the building in Hays in 1964 and the new Church was built about a mile from the former location. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 121. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004. Pittsburgh: Hays closed in 2014.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In March 1878, twelve people, most of them from the Franklin Church (later called Anne Ashley Memorial), organized the Homestead Methodist Church, which in September 1878, became the Homestead Charge. The Society's first Church building, known at Stewart Methodist Episcopal Church in honor of Joseph Stewart, Sr. prominent member and trustee, was located between Sixth and Seventh Avenues on Ann Street. It was dedicated February 11, 1883 and became a station in September 1883. This Church, destroyed by fire January 9, 1887, was replaced by Fourth Avenue Church, Fourth and Ann Street 1888. By 1909 a larger edifice was needed and the plant on Fourth Avenue was sold to St. Ann's Roman Catholic congregation. In October 1911, the new church building, corner of Tenth Avenue and Ann Street, was dedicated. The church celebrated its ninetieth anniversary in October 1968, having sent fourteen of its sons into the ministry during its lifetime. Accepting Christ's command "to go into all the world," missionary support has always come first, the amount of giving often exceeded the pastor's salary. With the closing of steel mills and unemployment the membership declined and in 1990 became a three-point circuit with West Homestead and Hays and became known as Cornerstone Circuit and then on December 31, 1995 the Homestead: First Church was discontinued. The records went to the Commission on Archives and History. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Organized as William Cox Memorial Church in April 1908 in the home of Alfred B. Sherwin. Part of Anne Ashley Charge, until November 1919 when it became a charge of its own. In 1920 the name was changed to Homestead Park Methodist Episcopal Church. The first church building was dedicated February 27, 1910, by Bishop J. F. Berry. Parsonage was built 1920. Lots were presented to the Church by the Homestead Park Land Company in 1908 and 1920. The second Church building was dedicated in 1929. Cost of second building was $70,000. To finance they had a first mortgage of $40,000 from a bank. It was also necessary to take out a 2nd mortgage of $20,000 endorsed by 9 families of the church. Second mortgage was satisfied as of March 28, 1945. The first mortgage was satisfied and burned April 22, 1951. In 1960 the congregation agreed to move the church to an 8 acre plot on Shady Avenue just off Brierly Road. It was thought that the growing edge of the congregation was in West Mifflin and this new property bordered on this area. A building fund was started and Harold E. Wagoner, FAIA Associates, of Philadelphia, were hired as architects. The new church was completed in September 1965. Park View Towers was constructed on the site of the old church. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 809. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The church originated on a small tract of land purchased from a local farmer, John Robertson, in 1837 for the sum of twenty dollars ($20.00). The Reverend Abner Jackson on the Harmony Circuit was the first pastor. The Little Log Church on Pine Creek was replaced prior to the Civil War by a vertical frame structure. It was known as the “Up and Down Church.” In 1886 another church was built of frame structure and was much more comfortable. In 1915, the first brick building was erected on the same site. The building was expanded and modernized under the ministry of Reverend Elmer Lewis Parks, Jr. in 1953. On May 1, 1965 an educational building was dedicated. It is located just across the Ingomar Road from the new church. The Ingomar Church has been on several circuits in its long history. In 1913 it became a Station Church. The congregation moved into the new building in 1991. The old sanctuary was used as a gym until 2005 when the building was renovated to be used for an activity center, gymnasium, meeting rooms, classrooms and a café. The membership in 1968 was 1880. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 1796.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Jefferson was started in 1843 and built on land deeded by Elijah Beam to five trustees; David Canon, Tobias Stille, Jeremiah Snee, Washington Wright and himself. Reverend Abner Jackson was the first pastor. The lot itself was from the Abraham Beam Land Grant, dated 1785. The church was located on what then was called the Limetown Road, and was the first of any Denomination in the Township. After 80 years, the original frame building was replaced by a new brick one in 1923 and dedicated April 27, 1924. The Educational building was added in 1961. The Church has been on Circuits with Peters Creek, West Elizabeth, Gastonville, Willock, Edwards Chapel and James Chapel. It became a Station Church in 1955. The membership in 1968 was 310. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 263.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In the year 1888 a group of five persons met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson in Mars for the purpose of organizing a Methodist Church. At this meeting it was decided to hold services in a storeroom on Railroad Street until a suitable location was found. In 1889 the Reformed Presbyterian Congregation loaned the use of their building to the group for worship. The first pastor was the Reverend John J. Davis, pastor of the Salem (Wexford) and Franklin Churches. It was inevitable that a building would be needed for services. Thus plans were drawn and a frame structure was built. It was dedicated on May 15, 1891. Some time later a lot was purchased on the corner of Lincoln Avenue and Barr Street. Here a parsonage was built. For eleven years the first church building seemed adequate for services but a larger building was soon imperative. Ground was purchased on the corner of Pittsburgh Street and Lincoln Avenue. In 1902 the first church building was razed and all available materials were used in the construction of a new building. This Church was dedicated on May 10, 1903 while the Reverend Albert H. Davies was the pastor. In 1923 a balcony was added to the sanctuary. Additional classrooms and a kitchen were added in 1927. Through the years a small debt overshadowed the church, however on January 17, 1945, a mortgage burning service celebrated the end of the mortgage. Since that time the sanctuary has been remodeled with the addition of new lighting fixtures and a divided chancel. As more classrooms became necessary, an adjoining property and house were purchased to temporarily meet this need. It was a part of a three-point Circuit with Salem and Dutilh until 1911 when it was made a Station appointment. The membership in 1968 was 432. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 299. In 2010 the Cranberry Township: Dutilh Campus and Mars Campus was formed and served by the pastors at Dutilh Church. The satellite was transferred to the Pittsburgh District 2010, and the building was closed April 30, 2018 and the congregation and the membership records went to Dutilh.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The Church grew out of a prayer meeting held in the home of Henry Jorden of Shaler Township in the summer of 1871. Sunday School was started in Seavey Schoolhouse in Shaler Township. Preaching services soon followed with the Reverend John Coleman High, of the Pittsburgh City Mission in charge. In 1876 the congregation moved to German Lutheran Church at Frederick and O'Brien Streets in Millvale. The first recorded pastor, Reverend George H. Huffman, served in 1876-1878. The first Pittsburgh Conference appointment was as Hudson in 1878, when Reverend Morris B. Pugh was appointed. In 1878 a one story building at the corner of North Avenue and Elizabeth Street was dedicated as the Hudson Methodist Episcopal Church. The appointments were listed as Hudson through 1892 and since 1893 as Millvale. In 1903 a brick building was erected at the corner of Butler Street and Lincoln Avenue being known as the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Millvale. In 1968 the Chancel was remodeled and an electronic organ was installed. In 1972 it became a two-point charge with Sharpsburg: Grace. In 2002 Millvale was placed with Community and Sharpsburg: Grace. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 105. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The mother church of Homestead Methodism. First services were held in the home of James and Nancy Whitaker in May 1830 by Dr. Matthew Stevenson, M.D. a brother-in-law of Mrs. Whitaker. Dr. Stevenson was a Methodist Local Preacher from Maryland. A Methodist Class was organized and it became a Preaching point on the Chartiers Circuit. About 1832, Aaron Whitaker, Sr., Joseph West Sr. and wife Catherine (daughter of Aaron Whitaker), each donated an acre of land for a burying plot and for the location of a church. The first church, built of hand made bricks donated by the Wests who had a brickyard, was erected in 1833; the frame Sanctuary in 1887; with renovation and addition in 1954. A seven room brick parsonage was built in 1960. An illuminated steeple was erected in 1965. A Memorial Room was completed in 1968 to display and preserve memorabilia of this venerable church. Flagon and Chalices and the Lock and key used in Franklin Church prior to 1887 are displayed along with the Ashley Family Bible (1816-1817) and an 1832 Methodist Discipline. Old Hymnals with words only, no musical score, are also displayed with memorabilia of deceased members. The church was first called The Neck Church because of it's location between two streams, the Whitaker Church, then the Franklin Church. In 1887 it was named Anne Ashley Memorial, for the mother of the benefactor Alexander Ashley. Mrs. Anne Ashley (1794-1853) was a member of the church from its early days. The original grant of ground was deeded in 1838 to the New Lebanon Methodist Meeting House and Franklin Cemetery. In 1886 a portion of these grounds were exchanged with Homestead Cemetery to give the Church a 300 foot frontage on 22nd Street. This replacement ground is the site of the Church and Parsonage. The Trustees act as Trustees for Franklin Cemetery Association in administering a perpetual care fund established in 1942. On various Circuits across the years it became a Station appointment in 1920. The membership in on January 1, 2003 was 396. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

Location: At the corner of South Graham Street and Centre Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Evangelical – Pittsburgh Conference. Albright was organized December 25, 1843 with 28 members as the Zion Evangelical Church, Evangelical Association. First services were held in the old courthouse on Market Street. A church was built in 1844 at Ninth and Fayette Streets. In 1851 a second building was erected at 528 High Street (now Sixth Avenue). Missions were started in several sections of Pittsburgh. From 1875 to 1923 Zion Church was part of the Erie (German) Conference of the Evangelical Association. In 1946 the church became the First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Pittsburgh; in 1968 the name was changed to the Albright United Methodist Church. Zion was the Mother Church for Immanuel, Lorenz Avenue, Stanton Heights and Arlington Avenue churches. The new building was dedicated July 1, 1906. Preaching in English at all services began in 1912. In 2001 the Bloomfield Community Church merged with Albright and name was changed to Albright Community Church. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 190. The congregation abandoned the property in November 2013. The annual conference maintained the worship space well into 2016 pending the sale of the property.

Mailing Address:

ID: 101343

Location: Located at 124-126 Tipton Street, Hazelwood, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This church was started from the Liberty Street Methodist Episcopal Church, downtown Pittsburgh, during the controversy over the Smithfield Street property. Withdrawal of thirty-two members under the leadership on Nancy E. “Auntie” Adams, by petition February 5, 1862, in controversy over use of Melodian in worship service. Original members included the William Wilkinsons, the G. A. Kirkpatrick, S. P. Collins and Reverend James Dewitt, local church elder. Bishop Edward R. R. Ames, who presided over the Pittsburgh Conference session of 1862, gave assistance in the organization. The adopted name was Ames and dedicated meeting place over No. 14 Fourth Street, on July 27, 1862. Moved to Hazelwood, corner Second Avenue and Longworth Street. Church and parsonage built 1876 as result of great revival conducted by Reverend Aaron H. Miller, City Missionary, in Public School House during the fall of 1875. Reverend Harry Beeson Mansell burned the mortgage in 1897. They attained peak membership of 600 under Reverend William S. Lockard in 1906. Ames benevolence collections were over $1,000 in 1910 under Reverend Joseph R. Fretts. This property was sold to Jones and Laughlin Steel Co. for $45,000 in 1917. A temporary tabernacle was built at the corner of Flowers Avenue and Gertrude Street on property of Judson Smith in 1918 where a revival service was conducted by Miss Jennie Smith, “The Railroad Evangelist”. The parsonage was built at corner of Tipton and Gertrude Streets. The new building was dedicated December 23, 1923. A Parsonage adjoining the church was purchased May 1, 1945. In 1985 the congregation voted to close the church and merged with the Mary S. Brown Church.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL - PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

1831-1990

Mailing Address:

ID: 101412

Location: It was located at South Thirteenth and Bingham Streets on South Side of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This church originated from a Sunday School organized in 1831 by Squire John McKee. The South Side was then the village of Birmingham. In 1832 the Sunday School was organized as a Methodist Class and attached to the Pittsburgh Circuit. The first church was built in 1834-1835 on the property which had been purchased from Mrs. Hannah Duncan for $1,300. In 1835 Birmingham was made a Station appointment with Reverend Gideon D. Kinnear as the first pastor. By 1842 more space was needed and the congregation purchased a partly finished Presbyterian Church on Fifteenth Street, finished it and occupied it in 1843. Growth continued requiring another expansion, so in 1857, the new location was secured with the building completed and occupied in the Fall of 1859. The parsonage was built during the pastorate of Reverend Robert Thompson Miller in 1885-1889. The two-story brick Church was remodeled in 1903. Bingham Street was the mother congregation of the Carson Street and the Walton Church. Carson Street was abandoned and sold in 1893, the building being occupied by a Greek Catholic Congregation. Bingham Street itself suffered decline and in 1990 merged with Walton Church. The records went to the Commission on Archives and History.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Calvary was organized by Northside members of Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, which was located at Penn and Eighth Avenues in downtown, Pittsburgh following the May 5, 1891 fire. The original membership was 154, including 4 probationers. First separate service held in Allegheny City was held November 1892. The cornerstone was laid 1893; Reverend Dr. Austin M. Courtenay was pastor and Charles H. Fowler was the Bishop. The architectural firm of Vrydah and Wolfe of Kansas City, Missouri designed the plans with George A. Cochran of Allegheny City as general contractor. Total cost was $340,000. Louis C. Tiffany designed the three great art windows which were selected for exhibition in the Great Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893. It has Gothic structure seating 850. Union Methodist Church of Manchester merged with Calvary in 1919. It was formerly known as the Manchester church, established in 1846. The new building was erected in 1966 and named Union Church. Buena Vista Street Church merged with Calvary in 1931. It was formerly known as South Common Church. Organized in 1838 by members withdrawing from Beaver Street (later called Arch Street) and Smithfield Street Churches. The first building located on Church Street, between Federal and Sandusky Streets, facing South Common. It was moved to Buena Vista Street site in 1885. Following the 1931 merger, Calvary Church donated the Buena Vista Street building to the Buena Vista Street congregation of the Washington Conference of the Central Jurisdiction. The membership in 1950 was 850 members. Due to the changing neighborhood the membership has declined in recent years. The membership in 1968 was 344. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 120.

PITTSBURGH: CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOUR

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT

METHODIST - PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

1965

Mailing Address: 1502 Chicago Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15214-2416

412/323-9554

ID: 101970

Location: Located at 1502 Chicago Street, in the Northview Heights, on the North Side section of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist – Pittsburgh Conference. The Church of Our Saviour in Northview Heights grew out of the Bethany House Ministry which was begun by the Reverend John Charles Garvin in 1962. Bishop William Vernon Middleton assigned Reverend Garvin to Northview Heights, a public housing project for 999 low income families, with the commission “to love the people and let the Holy Spirit lead”. Many social and spiritual needs were identified and a ministry initiated to meet them. Out of the old fashion type “class meetings” or house church groups a distinct need for an organized congregation soon emerged. Reverend Garvin began conducting Sunday worship services in the spring of 1962. These were held in the original Bethany House. The Reverend Robert White Young was assigned to the Bethany Ministry Staff in 1963 as Pastor of the growing congregation. In December 1964 the congregation was formally organized as a Methodist Church in Western Pennsylvania Annual Conference. Until this time it was related to the Smithfield Street congregation in downtown Pittsburgh where the Reverend David Jones Wynne was Pastor. A new church building was completed in March of 1966. Harry Viehman, Sr. of the Methodist Church Union staff was the architect. The membership in 1968 was 164. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 34.

1883

Mailing Address: 2415 Saw Mill Run Boulevard, Pittsburgh, PA 15234-3039

412/882-2544

ID: 101582

Location: On Saw Mill Run Boulevard (also known as Route 51 South) and Route 88 in the Overbrook section of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. In 1881 a man by the name of Perry was converted while attending a camp meeting at Castle Shannon. Feeling that the community of Overbrook needed religious services he organized a Sunday School that met in a school building. In 1883 the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church appointed Reverend Samuel F. Crowther pastor of the Fairhaven Mission. On August 31, 1884 the Mission was formally organized as the Fairhaven Methodist Protestant Church. The first Church was built on Glenbury Street on a lot donated by Robert Thompson in 1890. The new Church was dedicated December 8, 1907. It was built on a lot given by the J. F. Horning family, under the leadership of Reverend Charles Sumner Sanders. A renovation program was carried out in 1940, the cost of which was liquidated by February 24, 1946. The membership in 1968 was 334. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 191. On October 11, 2016, Castle Shannon UMC merged with Fairhaven UMC, at which time the Pittsburgh: South Hills Partnership consisted of Carnegie, Fairhaven, Hill Top and Spencer United Methodist Churches.

Pastors: Pittsburgh: Fairhaven: Samuel Ferry Crowther 1883-1886; George W. History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. Origin in 1796 in the Wrenshall Class (Methodist Meetings) in the Blockhouse at the Point in downtown Pittsburgh. A part of the original Pittsburgh Methodist Episcopal congregation until a division from Smithfield Street met to form the First Methodist Protestant Church in 1829. Their Fifth Avenue site was leased to Kaufmann's Department Store in 1892, and the congregation divided to form the First Methodist Protestant Church of Shadyside and the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church on the North Side. Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, located on Penn Avenue at Eighth Street, downtown Pittsburgh, was organized in 1852. Following a fire in May 1891, this congregation was divided to create Christ Church in the East End, and Calvary Church on the North Side. The Christ Church congregation erected the church in 1894. In 1934, the Oakland Methodist Episcopal Church (organized in 1872) located at Forbes and Bouquet Streets merged with Christ Church in 1946 in the Christ Church building and took the name of The First Methodist Church of Pittsburgh. Following this merger a $442,000 development program which included a new educational building was completed. The United Lincoln Methodist Church – formed in 1960 through a merger of the Lincoln Avenue Methodist Church (organized in 1893); and the Lemington Avenue Methodist Church (organized in 1905), merged with First Church in 1964. In 1966, the Asbury Methodist Church (organized in 1833), located at Forbes and Murray Avenues in Squirrel Hill also merged with First Church. The 1968 membership was 1,208. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 555.

History: United Methodist – Western Pennsylvania Conference. Hot Metal Bridge Faith Community started as just a seed of a vision in March of 2002. Doctor Glen Kohlhepp helped Reverend Jeff Eddings and Reverend James Walker, both youth ministers at the time, at Ingomar and Bakerstown United Methodist Churches respectively. An outreach ministry was begun in the Goodwill Industries building on the South Side of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania in May of 2002. In June of 2002 the cabinet asked Reverends Eddings and Walker to give a presentation of their vision. In September of 2002 the two clergymen began to do a monthly service. They paid for it with money out of their own pockets. In the spring of 2003 Reverend Walker was appointed to Bakerstown as associate where the Hot Metal Bridge project was embraced as an outreach ministry. Reverend Eddings who was still in seminary, was hired by the Presbyterians to work with the Hot Metal Bridge project full time. Hot Metal Bridge Faith Community is chartered as a union church between the United Methodists and Presbyterians. In October of 2004 200 youth canvassed the neighborhood with invitations to a Grand Opening Service to be held October 3, 2004. At first, Hot Metal Bridge Faith Community worshiped in the Goodwill building at 26th and East Carson Street in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Their office is at 50 14th Street, South Side, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Weekly services have been held since then. At some point they moved into the East Carson Street location.

EVANGELICAL - PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

1853-2003

Mailing Address:

ID: 189783

Location: At corner of Madison Avenue and Tripoli Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Evangelical - Pittsburgh Conference. This church is an outgrowth of Zion Church (now Pittsburgh: Albright) when a small group bought a property in 1853 at Madison Avenue, at what is now Spring Garden Avenue. Here they worshipped until a brick building 26 feet by 38 feet was erected at Madison and Tripoli Streets. The Franklin Street Salem Church was an outgrowth of Immanuel in 1881. The new edifice was erected in 1889 and remodeled in 1961. Services were held in German until 1906, and in German and English from 1906 until 1923. This church has been very active in ministry to the community: sewing and cooking classes, clothes cupboard, food co-op and day nursery. In 1970 the membership was 202 members. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 196. In 2003 Immanuel merged with Allegheny and Buena Vista to become New Hope with services still being held in each Church.

Mailing Address:

ID: 010146

Location: Lawrenceville was located on Forty-third Street in the Lawrenceville section of the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This Church was the result of the merger of three congregations: Butler Street and McCandless Avenue Methodist Churches and the Forty Third Street Presbyterian Church. Butler Street and McCandless Avenue Churches merged in 1949. In 1961 a merger was effected with the Forty Third Street Presbyterian Church. The Butler Street building was sold and the congregation occupied the building of the former Presbyterian Church. Changes in the community brought about a decline of Protestantism in the Lawrenceville community. The merged Church served as a community congregation under Methodist operation. The membership in 1968 was 274. Lawrenceville merged with Emory in 1977.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL - PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT
1792-1985

Location: At 3424 Beechwood Boulevard, Squirrel Hill area, Pittsburgh, in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Although tradition dates from 1792, historically it became a part of Methodism's East Liberty Circuit in 1841. The First building was erected in 1843; outgrown and replaced in 1881 and called "Brown's Chapel". Nine years of disagreements shattered the congregation and 1890 began a 14 year abandonment during which the building was razed. In 1904 the Ames Methodist Episcopal pastor, William S. Lockard, scouted Squirrel Hill for Samuel Smith Brown, a wealthy river boat captain, who wanted to erect a "Palace of Memory" for his sainted mother. Results were an 82-member congregation, organized September 11, 1904, the outgrowth of a Sunday School that began meeting 5 months previously with 63 members attending. An endowed building was dedicated February 14, 1909. Ten months later, 60 members withdrew to join 42 other Christians in forming The Squirrel Hill Methodist Protestant Church. Two blocks down Beechwood Boulevard, at Lilac Street, they erected a building. In 1941 Squirrel Hill and Brown's Chapel merged, using the Mary S. Brown Memorial name and building; the other building was sold. There were 152 Methodist Protestant and 444 Methodist Episcopal members at the time of the merger. In 1968 the membership was 226. In 1985 the Ames church of Hazelwood merged with Mary S. Brown to form the Mary S. Brown-Ames Church.

Location: Formerly located at 1815 Chislett Street in the Morningside section of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In the early summer of 1894, Reverend William F. Oldham, later a Bishop, then pastor of Butler Street Methodist Church, began preaching and prayer services in Morningside. Sunday School was organized on June 19th, and the work was placed under the care of Reverend Nathan L. Brown, superintendent of the City Missions. Dr. Arthur Staples succeeded Reverend Brown as Superintendent of City Missions in 1897, and under his leadership land was purchased and the Church was erected. It was dedicated June 19, 1898. Under the leadership of the pastor, Reverend Richard Beatty Callahan, the church was cleared of debt May 28, 1916. Growth of the congregation and Sunday School necessitated enlargement of the facilities. In 1924 plans were adopted for new Sunday School rooms and a new parsonage. During the pastorate of Reverend Charles William Oresk the mortgage was burned October 18, 1945. The membership had risen above 350 in the early 1940's and had declined to 130 in 1968. The church closed and merged with the Stanton Heights Church in 1970.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In 1909 Reverend Thomas M. Pender, then serving the Beechview Church, organized a Sunday School Society in Mount Lebanon. This society met in the homes of Mrs. C. S. Roberts, William Parker, W. S. Worcester, B. F. Davis, Edward Woods and others. In 1910 the group organized as an official body with William Parker as president. In 1911 the property was purchased to build a church. In 1912 the first structure was built and consecrated and was later called Sanner Chapel. In 1924 the new sanctuary was erected as a cost of $213,000. The church grew rapidly after the great depression and in 1950 the congregation voted unanimously to embark upon a Ten-Year Plan to Property Improvement and Expansion. During that period the four floor Religious Education Building was erected; the chancel was remodeled; a new Aeolian Skinner organ was purchased; property for parking lots was obtained, along with many other facilities at a cost of $970,000. In 1962 another renovation program called the Four Point Advance was initiated and completed at a cost of $260,000. The church began with 12 members and in 1968 had 2,921 members. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 1,606.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. When Reverend Charles Wesley Smith was pastor of South Pittsburgh Church (later named Carson Street), he organized the Methodists in Mount Washington into a separate congregation on October 26, 1865. Its first house of worship was built on Kirkpatrick Street, now Kearsage Street and was dedicated June 10, 1866. The second church was erected two blocks away on Sycamore Street and dedicated in 1891. This building was destroyed by fire. The new church was built on Sycamore Street and dedicated September 4, 1904. The membership in 1968 was 301. Since then the membership has declined and the church closed and merged with Fairhaven in 1985.

PITTSBURGH: NORTH AVENUE METHODIST EPISCOPAL – PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT
1866-1969

Location: In the Central North Side of Pittsburgh at the corner of North Avenue and Arch Street, Methodist Episcopal, Pittsburgh Conference, in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In the year 1866, thirty-seven members of the old Beaver Street Church, later named Arch Street Church met in a one-story Brick School house in the rear of Bagly's Lane, now Bidwell Street, close to Allegheny Avenue, and organized what was to be known as the North Avenue Methodist Church. A preliminary gathering had already been held at the home of Hugh McKelvie, the father of Mrs. Henrietta Paul, late, of Linden Street. Upon the advice of Bishop Matthew Simpson, the site at the corner of North Avenue and Arch Street was acquired, which location the Bishop later declared to be the most strategic in the city. Here the foundations for a new church were laid at once, but post-Civil War problems interfered and a one-story frame building was constructed. This was known as the "Shanty". This first church building was begun April 9, 1866 and completed for occupancy the following Sabbath. The new church building was begun in early 1867 and dedicated by Bishop Matthew Simpson in October 1868. For many years a leading Methodist pulpit in the city, its membership reached more than 1,500 in the early 1920's. In the ten years since 1958 to 1968 the Arch Street Methodist, the Ohio-Simpson Methodist and the Robinson Street Mission have merged with the North Avenue Methodist Church. The membership in 1968 was 388. In 1969 the North Avenue Church and the Pittsburgh Trinity Church merged to become Pittsburgh: Allegheny United Methodist Church.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This Church was begun as a Mission by a member of Emory Church who saw a need in the Garfield Section. The first service was held on January 26, 1896. The Church building was erected in 1897. The first service in it was held on June 27 of that year. Support in buying the lot and erecting the Church was given by Christ Church and its pastor Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Sr. who preached the dedicatory sermon. The Church also received aid from the Pittsburgh Methodist Church Union. The Reverend Nathan L. Brown, city missionary of the Methodist Episcopal, preached the first sermon in the new church and continued as it's pastor for the first year. The Church reached a peak membership of 300 in the early 1920s. Its membership in 1968 was 179. It closed in 1994. The records went to the Conference Commission on Archives and History.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Grew out of Cottage Prayer Meetings into a Sunday School that was organized on May 26, 1889. They met in homes, then moved to a photograph gallery and later to a vacant store room. The Sunday School moved to a new Church on November 16, 1892 which was erected at the corner of Linden and Maple Avenues (now Lafayette and Mountford Avenues). On April 27, 1893, the organization known as the Maple Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church was effected. In June, 1893 the name was changed to Linden Avenue. On July 27, 1893, when the charter was presented there were 56 members. The brick Church was dedicated December 16, 1900 and was known at the Perrysville Avenue Methodist Church. The 1968 membership was 398. They closed in 1983 and the records went to McKnight.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In 1880 a sewing circle which made weekly trips to sew for the Pittsburgh Hospitals became interested in forming an interdenominational Religious Mission. A religious census was carried out and they established a United Mission Sunday School holding their meetings in a School building. On September 28, 1889 the Methodist of this group secured a charter for The First Methodist Episcopal Church of Sheradenville. The first Church building was built in 1903. An addition was constructed in 1930, and the entire building was extensively remodeled in 1961. The membership has been declining in recent years and was 543 in 1968 and the membership on January 1, 2003 was 144. Sheraden UMC burned on September 9, 2019.

History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. On December 10, 1899, a Sunday School was organized under the direction of J. J. Walker, Mrs. R. T. Lewis and William Crumley; and leadership of Reverend George Schaffer, President of Pittsburgh Conference, Reverend John Lucas, chairman of the Board of Church Extension, and Reverend Brayman William Anthony, pastor at Castle Shannon. Classes met at a new house on Glenmawr Avenue provided by John Murphy, realtor and contractor. On January 7, 1900, still meeting in the house, a Methodist Protestant Church was established with 34 members. Reverend Brayman William Anthony served as interim pastor. In June of 1900 Reverend Harlan Luther Feeman, recent graduate of Adrian College, was appointed pastor. A white frame Church was dedicated November 14, 1900. The name was The Sheraden Methodist Protestant Church until Methodist Union in 1939 when it was changed to the Sheraden Terrace Methodist Church. Twelve members have graduated from Adrian College, Adrian Michigan. Reverend Brayman William Anthony and Doctor Harlan Luther Feeman later became Presidents of Adrian College. In 1968 the membership was 218. In 1971 the Sheraden Terrace and Sheraden Church merged to form the Sheraden United Methodist Church.

1796-1968

Location: This Church was located on the corner of Smithfield Street and Seventh Avenue in Downtown Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Smithfield Street was the mother Church of Pittsburgh Methodism. Occasional Methodist services were held in Pittsburgh from 1786. Bishop Francis Asbury made his first visit to Pittsburgh in 1789. The first society was organized by local preachers and hardware merchant John Wrenshall in 1796. Until 1803 it met in the Blockhouse of the Old Fort Pitt at "The Point". Then meetings were in homes until the erection of the first church at Front and Smithfield Streets in 1810. Bishop Francis Asbury preached from the foundation of this Church on Sunday, August 26, 1810. He made the following notation in his Journal: Preached on the foundation of the new chapel to about five hundred persons. I spoke again at five o'clock to about twice as many. The Society here is lively and increasing in numbers." In 1811 Pittsburgh was made a Station appointment. In 1817 the congregation acquired the property at the corner of Smithfield and Seventh Avenue, and erected the first Smithfield Street Church on it in 1818. This was the property that was involved in litigation with the Reformer portion of the congregation that withdrew in 1829 and built the First Methodist Protestant Church where Kaufmann's Department now stands, in 1833. This was the building in which the General Conference of 1828 was held in which the petitions of the Reformers were rejected. The second Smithfield Street Church was erected on the same site in 1848 and was dedicated on Christmas Day that year. During the pastorate of Reverend Daniel L. Marsh 1916-1926, who was also Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Methodist Church Union, plans were made for the construction of a Methodist Headquarters Building on this site. The adjoining Keller building was purchased in 1924. These plans failed. The title to the property was transferred to the Church Union in 1930. A Conference and Area campaign was carried out in 1942 to liquidate the indebtedness acquired during the Headquarters effort and to remodel the Keller building for use as the Methodist Center. This effort was successful and the Conference and Area Headquarters were located here from 1942 to 1968. After 1942 the adjoining Michel building was purchased. In 1968 and 1969 the three buildings were razed to make way for a new twenty six story office building on the site to be administered by the Methodist Church Union, to provide an institutional ministry, but not to have a congregation. The Smithfield Street congregation, which has been maintained by declining strength since 1930, voted in 1968, to federate with the Smithfield Congregational Church at 620 Smithfield Street in a new ecumenical ministry to downtown Pittsburgh. The Congregational Church building was used. The membership reported in 1968 was 182. The membership of the federated congregation in 1969 was 715. It is no longer listed in the Western Pennsylvania Annual Conference Journal, but is considered an Appointment Beyond the Local Church and is supplied by United Methodist Pastors. It is called Smithfield United Church and listed as an Extension Ministry.

Location: At Churchview and Spencer Avenues in the Carrick section of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This congregation had its origins in a Class organized as a preaching place on the Chartiers Circuit in 1837. The nucleus of the Class were members of the Franklin Church (now Anne Ashley Memorial in Munhall). In 1850 James Stewart and his wife Nancy deeded the lot on Spencer Avenue, and a log building, measuring 22 x 32 feet, was erected and was named “Baldwin Chapel”. The church was incorporated under that name on March 7, 1857. The congregation outgrew the little log chapel and it was torn down and replaced by a modest brick structure made possible by the generous gift of the Spencer sisters, Jane and Alice. It was completed and dedicated on December 22, 1867 and the name changed to Spencer Methodist Episcopal Church. During the years 1890 to 1900, Spencer Church fell on hard times. Membership had decreased to one-half-dozen families. After 1900, the area along Brownsville Road began to develop and under the leadership of such ministries as Reverend Blaine Lytle and Reverend David Roy Graham, the church began to grow again. The new church building was started in 1924 and completed and dedicated on September 26, 1926 during the pastorate of Reverend Richard Makin Fowles. A religious educational wing was added in 1950 under the leadership of Reverend Paul Leroy Lindberg, and the sanctuary was redesigned, remodeled and refurbished in 1962 under Reverend James Bernard Burwell. The membership in 1968 was 818 and the membership on January 1, 2003 was 319. On October 11, 2016, Castle Shannon UMC merged with Fairhaven UMC, at which time the Pittsburgh: South Hills Partnership consisted of Carnegie, Fairhaven, Hill Top and Spencer United Methodist Churches.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL – PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT
1892-1969

Location: Was at Bidwell and Abdell Street on North Side, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The roots of Trinity go back to the original Methodist Episcopal congregation. Organized Pittsburgh Methodism started with the Wrenshall Class in 1796, which met in “The Blockhouse” until 1803, then in various homes until the erection of the first building on the corner of Front and Smithfield Street in 1810. The second building was erected at the corner of Seventh and Smithfield Street in 1818, suffered a division of the congregation in the “reformer” controversy. The Reformer portion of the congregation secured a charter as “The First Methodist Church of Pittsburgh” on March 5, 1828 and there was legal litigation over the property. This group became a part of the Methodist Protestant Church when that denomination was formally organized in 1830. On May 25, 1831 ground was purchased on Fifth Avenue from the executor of the estate of John O’Hara, and in 1833 a Church was built on the site of the Kaufmann’s Department Store. In 1851 the charter was amended to add the name “Protestant” to the name of the Church. In 1892 the property on Fifth Avenue was leased to Kaufmanns and the congregation divided, a portion building the First Methodist Protestant Church on Aiken Avenue in the Shadyside portion of the East End of Pittsburgh, with the members on the North Side or Allegheny section building Trinity Church in 1893. About 1906 a Congregational congregation located in the same area merged with Trinity The 1968 membership was 311. In 1969 Trinity merged with North Avenue to become Pittsburgh: Allegheny at 114 West North Avenue, North Side, Pittsburgh.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The congregation grew out of a group which met for church services in a school building. In 1871 a committee secured a charter for “The Methodist Episcopal Church of Twenty-Fourth Street, east of Birmingham”. The church was dedicated in May 1871. It was named The Walton Methodist Church in honor of Joseph Walton, a coal merchant, who contributed a substantial portion of the money for the building. However, a heavy debt remained and it was to help meet church debts that The Methodist Episcopal Church Union was organized in 1880. With the help of the Church Union the debt was paid and a “Jubilee of Praise Service” was held on April 15, 1881. A dedication was held in June 1883 at the completion of the second story of the Church building. The parsonage was completed on September 5, 1887. The Estey Organ was a gift of Andrew Carnegie in 1902. The changing neighborhood has caused a declining membership which was 166 in 1968 and the membership on January 1, 2002 was 27. Church closed in 2008. Records went to Hot Metal Bridge Church in 2008.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Washington Conference. In 1880 six children were assembled as a Sunday School class in the home of Alfred and Martha Jackson. It was out of this nucleus that the Warren Church emerged. In 1883 the group petitioned the Washington Conference for a minister, and Reverend Benjamin F. Meyers was sent. Permission was secured for the group to worship in the Chapel of the building occupied by the Methodist Book Store. Later they moved to a new location at Twenty-Seventh Street and Penn Avenue. On their first Sunday in the new quarters the sermon was preached by Reverend Henry White Warren. On that occasion he gave the Mission $200 and the congregation adopted the name of Warren Methodist Church. The new Church building was erected in 1907. It has undergone substantial renovation during 1967 and 1968. At the dissolving of the Washington Conference of the Central Jurisdiction in 1964, the Warren Church and pastor became members of the Western Pennsylvania Conference. Warren has been a Station appointment since 1886. The membership in 1968 was 771 and the membership on January 1, 2003 was 243.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. In 1801 or 1802 the first Methodist preaching in the valley was in the home of Jesse Fisher where a Class was organized on the original Shenango Circuit. Prior to 1837 there was no regular preaching within the town limits. Mainly through the activities of J. R. Garrison the Shields Society was formed in 1815 and the Methodist families of “Sewickleyville” united to form the Society of Sewickleyville. Through the efforts of Reverend Charles Thorn, Reverend James Gray and John R. Garrison a frame church was built in 1839. The Sewickley Circuit was formed in 1840 with Reverend Joshua Monroe and Reverend John White as the preachers. A charter of Incorporation was granted the Methodist Episcopal Church of Sewickleyville in 1852. In 1854 a brick church was built. Sewickley became a Station appointment in 1863. A bequest of $15,000 by Reverend Charles Thorn toward a new church and the subscriptions of the congregation enabled the chapel to be built in 1881, and a new church in 1881. Most recent alterations were completed in 1961. A new Electronically Activated Organ console purchased and old organ enhanced. They now have 1,792 pipes. Major renovation of the building was done between 1987 and 2000. The membership in 1968 was 660 and the membership on January 1, 2003 was 396.

Location: On Blackburn Road about 3 miles northeast of Sewickley in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The Reverend Thomas McClelland organized the Hamilton Bible Class about the year 1811 and in 1833 a log church was erected on an acre site which was purchased for fifty cents. Prior to the erection of the log Church the people of the class held services in various homes of the community. In 1853 a Quaker style brick building replaced the log Church. Reverend William Page Blackburn was minister at the time, and the church was named for him. About 1890 a new white frame church was built. The record of appointments is not traceable through the journals until 1897. It was on different Circuits during its history. From 1938 until 1945 it was part of a two point Charge with Glenfield. Its membership in 1968 was 45. Its membership on January 1, 2003 was 59.

Mailing Address: 400 Center Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15215

ID: 096688

Location: Located at 1512 North Canal Street in the borough of Sharpsburg, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Protestant – Pittsburgh Conference. Sharpsburg grew out of a camp meeting held on the old Sharp Farm in the area, in the summer of 1838. At the close of the meeting the Reverend George Brown, then pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church of Allegheny City, made an appointment for services to be held in the little red brick school house. In 1839 a red brick church, known to later generations as the “Little Jim Church”, was erected for the use of this new group by James Sharp. On December 16, 1845 the church was chartered and in March of 1847. James Clark and his wife deeded the property on which the church stood to the Board of Trustees for the sum of $256.00. During its early years Sharpsburg was sometimes listed as a Station charge and sometimes as part of a Circuit. The Sharpsburg Church entertained the Pittsburgh Conference in the fall of 1859. A pipe organ was donated by the Pittsburgh Bar Association in honor of Judge Collier who was choral director of the church. The Church building known then as Grace Methodist Protestant Church was dedicated in 1872 under the pastorate of Reverend Edward A. Brinkley. Mr. Henry J. Heinz, who became a member of the church 1879, served as Sunday School superintendent for nearly 30 years. He bequeathed a considerable sum to be used for music and maintenance of the property. The building was partially damaged by fire in 1938 and the congregation joined with the now closed Union Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church for worship until the damage was repaired. In 1939, after the merger the church was known as the Grace Methodist Church of Sharpsburg. The new educational wing and parsonage were the latest additions to the church and completed in 1968. Sharpsburg: Grace, Community and Millvale were made a three point Charge in 2002. The original bell from the "Little Jim Church" is still on permanent display. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 315. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004. Church Closed on September 26, 2010.

Location: Located at 2024 Noble Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15218 in the Borough of Swissvale in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The first services were held on May 1, 1892 in Dickson's Hall, located over a store-room fronting on the Pennsylvania Railroad. This group of persons organized as a Methodist Episcopal Church while meeting in this hall on June 25, 1892. The cornerstone of the first building situated at Noble and Dickson Street, was laid June 23, 1893. The first major additions were made in 1906. An addition was made for the Sunday School in 1915. Ground was broken for the new building May 27, 1928. The cornerstone was laid September 29, 1929 by Reverend John Franklin Murray, who first organized the Society. The new Church was consecrated April 20, 1930. A new educational Building was consecrated April 24, 1960. The final payment on this building was made December 1 1968, and on December 22, 1968 a mortgage burning ceremony was held. A new parsonage at 2016 South Braddock Avenue was erected in 1953. A new educational building was added in 1960. Swissvale and Braddock: Fourth Street were made a two point Charge in 2002. The membership on January 1, 2001 was 254. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004. Swissvale Church was sold to the Mennonites in 2009 for $350,000 and rented a store front (a former Wine and Spirits Store) at 7415 Irvine Street in Swissvale. The name was changed to Swissvale: Living Spirit Ministry. Subsequently, the name was changed to Swissvale-New Day on July 1, 2016, after the church moved up the street to 2024 Noble Street.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The first service was held in 1874 on a dancing platform at Weddell's Grove, in what is now Oakmont by the Reverend Allen H. Norcross of Parnassus (now New Kensington). Beginning in 1875, services were held in the Second Ward Schoolhouse, Oakmont. The first frame building was erected on 485 Center Avenue, Verona, in 1876 when the church was officially organized. The stone building, located across the street from the original one, was dedicated May 9, 1915. It was never on a circuit. Between 1966 and 1969 the church was renovated including a new pipe organ console. The Verona: John Wesley Methodist Church suffered a severe fire in 1987. Rather than rebuild, the congregation merged with the Verona: First Church in 1988. The membership on January 1, 2002 was 240. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This Church started as a Union Sunday School in the West Homestead Public School on November 10, 1901. The initiators of the project were W. J. Turner, W. E. Kearns and Miss Mabel Watson. When fire destroyed the School the Sunday School was moved to the Ackerman Building on Eighth Avenue. The Church building was erected on land given by Miss Watson in 1903. It was dedicated April 24, 1904. The Society was incorporated on December 10, 1903 by Miss Watson. The original trustees were J. J. Turner, Roland Beam, John Watson, Edward Ball, and Mabel Watson. The plans for the Church were drawn by John C. Rowlands and the contractor was Lewis Walker. It was on a Charge with Anne Ashley Memorial 1904-1905; then from 1905-1908 it was associated with West Elizabeth Church. Raymond Leroy Archer, later elected Bishop, served the Church from 1908-1910. In May 1966 the Church was partially destroyed by fire. In the reconstruction the interior was remodeled. It was re-consecrated October 9, 1966. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 92. Location: Located at 124 Arkansas Avenue in the Borough of Whitaker, Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This church was originally located on Ravine Street in the Borough of Munhall. In 1894 John Munhall, for whom the town is named, built a Chapel, and William McMasters, Superintendent of Mr. Munhall's coal mines, and an active member of the Homestead Methodist Church, organized a Sunday School. A request was made to the Pittsburgh Conference sessions of 1895 for a preacher and Reverend Benjamin Burton Wolf was appointed. Mr. Munhall deeded the property to the congregation and in 1897 the Sunday School rooms were added to the original Chapel. This property was later sold to the Methodist Episcopal Church Union in 1923 and the congregation built a new Church in Whitaker, which was dedicated February 3, 1924. The sanctuary was remodeled and other improvements were made in 1959. Whitaker and West Homestead were made a two point Charge in 2000. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 259. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District is 2004.

Mailing Address:

ID: 189932

Location: This Church was located at the corner of Coal Street and South Avenue in the Borough of Wilkinsburg, Allegheny County, PA.

History: United Brethren – Allegheny Conference. In 1850 this church was organized by Reverend Jonathan Holmes with 25 members. A year later a building was erected on Ross Avenue between Coal Street and Swissvale Avenue, under the pastorate of Reverend David Speck. After a number of years, the Church was relocated on the corner of South Avenue and Coal Street during the pastorate of Reverend James M. Leshner. The Church was damaged by a storm and repaired in 1875. In 1889 land was purchased and a Sunday School building was erected. In 1892 a Church building was erected under the pastoral leadership of Reverend Lawrence W. Keister and was dedicated by Reverend Jonathan Weaver. In 1903 the Sanctuary was built during the pastorate of Reverend G. W. Sherrick and dedicated by Bishop J. S. Mills. In 1910 Andrew Carnegie paid half of the price of a pipe organ. In June 1926 a contract for a new building was let. The new church fronts Coal Street and South Avenue. This Church building was built under the pastorate of Reverend Earl C. Weaver and dedicated by Dr. William R. Funk on Sunday April 17, 1927. In 1970 Christ Church had 535 members. In 1975 Christ Church merged with Grace Church, retaining the name of Christ Church. In 1989 Christ Church and its members merged with South Avenue United Methodist Church. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2043.

WILKINSBURG: JAMES STREET METHODIST EPISCOPAL – PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT
1904-1965

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. The James Street Church was formed in 1904 along with Ross Avenue Church when the overcrowded facilities at South Avenue Church could not accommodate all its membership. A group of South Avenue members organized a Sunday School at the top of Maplewood Avenue, in the Old Firemen's Hose House. In the fall there was such an interest shown that the Sunday School was continued; the building was winterized and renamed Vincent Chapel of the South Avenue Methodist Church. In the spring of 1905, the Church Union purchased the lot upon which the James Street Church was built and it was dedicated December 17 of that same year. The congregation continued to worship there until June 17, 1965 when they merged with the Ross Avenue Church. The James Street property was sold to a Negro Baptist congregation. James Street and Ross Avenue merged with South Avenue in 1989. Records transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Camp meetings were held in the 1890's under the leadership of Reverend Charles M. Miller. In 1896 the Mifflin Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church was organized with about forty-five members, many of whom were members at the South Avenue Church. The Church Union donated the ground and a Chapel was built in 1896. In 1911 the original structure was enlarged and remodeled to meet the needs of the growing Church School. In 1924 a new sanctuary and additional educational and recreational facilities were added. More remodeling was done in 1953. In 1968 the educational unit was completely remodeled, a chapel and church parlor being added. The chancel of the main sanctuary was also restructured. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 380. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

Location: At the corner of Swissvale Avenue and Ross Avenue in the Borough of Wilkinsburg, in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. This Church along with James Street Methodist was organized in 1904, when the over crowded facilities of the South Avenue Church could not accommodate all its membership. The Ross Avenue Church was organized, a plot was purchased at the corner of Ross Avenue and Swissvale Avenue and the Reverend Richard Makin Fowles was appointed the first pastor of the Church at the 1905 Pittsburgh Annual Conference. There were about 275 members who withdrew from the Mother Church to organize the Ross Avenue Church. In the summer of 1904 another group of South Avenue members organized a Sunday School at the top of Maplewood Avenue, in the old Firemen's Hose House. In the fall there was such interest shown that the school was continued; the building was winterized and renamed Vincent Chapel of the South Avenue Methodist Church. In the spring of 1905, the Church Union purchased the lot upon which the James Street Church was built and dedicated on December 17, of that same year, by the District Superintendent James Mechem and the pastor, Reverend James Emil Morrison. In 1925 the building was enlarged to include additional classrooms and a gym. The congregation continued to worship there until June 17, 1965 when they merged with the Ross Avenue Church. The James Street property was sold to a Negro Baptist congregation. The structure of the new congregation had been remodeled, new heating installed and a thirty car parking lot built on Ross Avenue side of the building to better accommodate the members. The Ross Avenue Congregation merged with the South Avenue congregation in 1989 and the church was closed and sold. Records transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

Location: At 733 South Avenue and Wood Street in the Borough of Wilkinsburg, in Allegheny County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Pittsburgh Conference. Charles Avery Holmes and Ezra Hingley, local preachers, began Methodism in Wilkinsburg in 1832 organized from the Braddocksfield Circuit. The first church near the site of the Swissvale, Pennsylvania Railroad Station, was exchanged in 1843 by the 24 members for a new structure on Wallace Avenue in Wilkinsburg. In 1876, it was enlarged but the growing congregation necessitated a new larger structure erected in 1892-1893 on the South Avenue site. Because of growth in the Church School, additional facilities were added in 1901. Following the fire on February 23, 1907, the cornerstone of the new building was laid September 18, 1907. A three-story wing was added and dedicated on November 18, 1923. This is the Mother Church of at least six other Methodist Churches during a 60 year period: Homewood Avenue in 1872; Brushton in 1892; Swissvale 1892, Mifflin Avenue in 1896; Ross Avenue in 1904, James Street 1905 and later Laketon Heights in 1920. In 1966, the educational building was totally renovated. The Church's membership was 1000 for at least 65 years and over 2000 for 50 years. It has been a Station appointment since 1865. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 384. Transferred from Pittsburgh East District in 2004.

History: Methodist – Pittsburgh Conference. Windover Hills was a church extension project of the Board of Missions and The Methodist Church Union of Pittsburgh Conference. It was chartered in 1958 with services held in a 125 year old farm house. It received financial aid from Baldwin Church for three years. In 1959 a prefabricated building was constructed as a temporary sanctuary. The farm house was remodeled in 1962 for use as a Christian Education building and was named Wilson Hall in honor of the family from whom it was acquired. Another acre of land was bought from the Wilson property in 1966, bringing the total land to nearly five acres of choice Parkside property. “Lift High The Cross” was the theme adopted by the congregation as it began a building Fund Crusade the following year. $53,000 was pledged by the approximately 100 families with a similar amount granted by the Western Pennsylvania Conference Board of Missions. Ground was broken for the first unit, consisting of a 265 seat sanctuary and some educational space, on November 17, 1968 – the tenth anniversary of the charter. Construction was completed in mid 1969. The membership in 1968 was 277 and the membership on January 1, 2003 was 428.
