ANNANDALE

METHODIST EPISCOPAL – ERIE CONFERENCE

ERIE-MEADVILLE DISTRICT

1858-1???

History: Methodist Episcopal – Erie Conference. The history of Annandale begins with the year 1858 when a class of eight or ten persons was organized by John McComb – in charge of the Clintonville Circuit and assisted by S. S. Nye. The early meetings were held in the upper part of Thomas F. Christley’s dwelling house, in a room seated with slap benches. In 1859 a series of meetings were held in a grove, and many were added to the original members. Soon after this revival the Methodist church was built of unhewn logs. After four years the building was burned by an incendiary. At the next quarterly conference held in Clintonville it was proposed that the members of this class should give up their organization and connect with the most convenient classes within their reach. This they refused to do, and continued to hold meetings in a school house which “located in an almost inaccessible place in the forest,” was distant about one mile from the church which had been destroyed—which, also, had been located in the woods. Finally, a new church was erected in 1873, whose cost was about $2,000. In Erie District. Closed.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. As early as 1830 there was activity by the Methodists in the Corry Area when it was included in the Hare Creek Appointment of the Columbus Circuit. The first church built in 1858 near the Iced Brick School House became a part of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Corry about eight years later. The first Methodist Sunday School was opened in the summer of 1862 in a shanty on Concord Street. In May of 1863 a Methodist class was organized in the second story of a new unfinished building on East Main Street. Within a year forces were strong enough to undertake the construction of a new church on the corner of Concord and East Pleasant street at a cost of $12000. This served the church until 1903 when the new sanctuary building was ready for occupancy. The educational unit was built in 1959. Over twenty young men and women have gone out into the ministry from this church. Its 1968 membership was 797. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 512.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The Methodist Society in Cranesville was organized about 1830. In 1835 the Societies in Cranesville and Wellsburg combined to erect a church building. The Church was erected in 1836 on property donated by Lyman Jackson and was known as the "Old Brown Church". In 1874 Cranesville and Wellsburg formed into separate Churches again. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Woods gave the deed for the church property in Cranesville to the trustees of the Church on June 6, 1874. The new Church building was dedicated in 1875. It has undergone renovations in 1909, 1959-1961, and in 1962. The basement was remodeled in 1963. The members themselves have carried out these renovations. The parsonage was built in Cranesville about 1900. From 1874 until 1899 Cranesville was on the Albion Charge. It had been part of a three point Charge with Platea and Wellsburg. The 1968 membership was 124. In recent years it was a two-point charge with West Springfield and the member on January 1, 2003 was 106.

Location: Located at 113 High Street in the borough of Edinboro on Routes 6 North and 99 in Erie County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The Society was organized by Reverend Job Wilson, as a point on the Hartford Circuit in 1829. The first frame Church building was erected on Market Street in 1839 on a lot fronted by a grove of maple trees. Later the building was sold to the borough for a Town house and moved to the front of the lot. It is still standing and is in use as a private dwelling at 21 Market Street. In 1863 the second Church was built on Meadville Street. It underwent several renovations and in 1967 was sold to the Lutherans. It continues as the St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Plans for a new Church began in 1959. In 1961 three and four-tenths acres were purchased on High Street for a new Church and the building was erected on it in 1967 with its consecration by Bishop Roy Calvin Nichols on October 27, 1958. The parsonage at 66 Meadville Street was purchased in 1872. For many years Edinboro was a two-point Charge with McKean Church becoming a Station appointment in 1958. This Church has a close relationship with the United Campus Ministry of Edinboro State College. The membership in 1968 was 350. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 713.

Location: Located at 4703 West Ridge Road on the corner of West Twenty Sixth Street and Asbury Road approximately three miles west of the city line in Millcreek Township, Erie County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. Grew out of a class meeting in a log building known as the Wheaton Meeting House, located about a mile west of the present location in about 1823. Asbury belonged successively to Erie, Wesleyville, McKean and Fairview Circuits and was served by the circuit riding pastors of that time. In 1847 a lot was purchased for $80 at the present location "to be used as a meeting house and grave yard purposes forever." A frame structure was erected. In 1895 Asbury was taken from the Fairview Circuit and made a Station. Brick veneer was added and other improvements made to the building over the years. However in 1957 the decision was made to purchase additional land adjoining and to proceed with building an entirely new structure. An educational unit and fellowship hall were consecrated November 17, 1963 and plans are under way for the erection of the sanctuary which will complete the new building. The old building was demolished in 1965. The grave yard remains. Membership in 1968 was 452. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 432.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. Henderson Church was organized in October 1922. Some 75 members of the Wayne Street Methodist Church living east of the Pennsylvania railroad decided that a Church in their neighborhood would be a good idea. James Henderson donated a lot and the Methodists in the community erected a church. Under the leadership of Reverend John A Galbraith, who was pastor of Wayne Street church, the first services were conducted. In 1963 Henderson Church became a point of the East Erie Mission and then remodeled its parsonage to be used as an educational building. Most recently the members and friends of the congregation completely renovated the sanctuary. The high point in Henderson's history came in the spring of 1969 when Bishop Roy Calvin Nichols came to preach at the rededication services. The membership as reported in 1968 was 139. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 48. In 2005 Erie: Henderson and Erie: San Juan became Erie: Central.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. This Church was formed out of a class organized by Reverend Joshua Monroe at Four Mile Creek in 1810. Known as Wesleyville Church it has been called "The Mother Church of Methodism in Erie County". The first church was built on Buffalo Road in 1828. A "district parsonage" was constructed (1832-1835) and Wesleyville became the home church for the old Wesleyville Circuit. The old church was used as a terminus of the "underground railroad", assisting slaves in their escape to Canada prior to and during the Civil War. It was rebuilt in 1866. A new church was built at the corner of Station Road and South Street in 1926. It has been remodeled and renovated during the 1960's to meet a growing ministry. Wesleyville Church has traditionally been a center of fundamental doctrine evangelism and missionary zeal; it has furnished many of its members to full-time Christian service. Reported as Wesleyville in conference minutes prior to 1912. The 1968 membership was 442. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 530.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The church was organized with seven members at the house of Aaron Herriott in 1831. Early services were held in the school house and in the autumn of 1833 a house of worship was erected which was superseded in 1870 by a new two-story frame structure which was destroyed by fire in 1894 and replaced by a new structure. This church was the seat of the Espyville Circuit formed in 1851 with nine churches. Then in later years the circuit was reduced to four churches, then three, then two: Espyville and Westford, and was known as the Pymatuning Parish. An oil conversion was installed for heating and an Electric Organ was purchased in 1967. In 1967 the name of the Charge was changed to Lake Parish with the addition of the Geneva Church. There has been much remodeling done to the parsonage which is in Espyville including the insulating of the house and a new oil furnace. The membership in 1968 was 62. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 35.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Erie Conference. A Class was organized in 1836. Reverend Reuben Peck and Reverend Daniel Richey were the Circuit Preachers. There were 8 members all by the name of Alcorn. A Church building was erected in 1845 under the pastorate of Reverend H. S. Winans. The growth of this Society has been somewhat moderate, but steady. There was no sweeping revival as in many places yet under the labors of Reverend Jonathan Benn, a local preacher, father of Reverend Thomas Benn, there was quite an ingathering in 1842; and again in 1861 Reverend S. S. Stuntz had a very successful work. A camp meeting was held in 1841 about ½ miles from the site of the church at which Reverend D. H. Jack, later a member of the Erie Conference, was converted. Fairview was on the Chapmanville Charge until 1954. In 1954, Annual Conference authorized the sale of the Church and the proceeds to go to repair the parsonage on the Charge.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. This congregation was organized by Reverend Clinton L. Barnhart, as a preaching place on the Lockport and Albion Circuit in 1866. In 1869 the Church Building was erected jointly by the Methodists and the Lutherans. It was used by both congregations with services scheduled at different times until 1947 when the Methodist congregation acquired full title to the property. In 1948 the Eureka and Silverthorn congregations merged with Franklin Center. In 1950 the basement was excavated and in 1962 the brick sanctuary was built on to the old building which was renovated into classrooms. During the construction period the congregation worshipped in the basement of the Arthur Pieper home until the new building was ready for occupancy in April 1963. Originally on the Albion and Lockport Circuit, it became part of the Cranesville Charge about 1903. It was alternately a Station and a part of two-point charges until 1963. In 1963 it became a Station. It was associated with Fairview from 1953-1988, and McKean 1958-1963. Its membership in 1968 was 106. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 149.

A new church was built in 1847 under the leadership Reverend David Harper Jack, pastor of the Rockville Circuit. The land on the north western corner of the Meadville-Mosiertown Road and route 198 was donated by Isaac and Desiah Noble to the trustees of the church. During the spring and summer of 1943 the interior was remodeled and the exterior was painted. In January 1920 this building was burned to the ground. In June 1921, the corner stone was laid for the new brick building. In 1906 the borough was named North Girard and renamed Lake City in 1955. Location: Located at 19463 on Route 89 South, in Corry, two miles south of Route 6, in Erie County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The McCray Church was organized as a Wesleyan Methodist Society about 1845. The land on which the Church stands was given by Robert McCray and a Union Church was built on it. The Erie County Court records show that the property was jointly used by the Congregational Church and the Methodists prior to 1900. Shortly before this date a lawsuit developed between these two bodies as to who had the use and control of the property. After lengthy litigation the court decided that both bodies had the joint use of the property. Court costs were to be paid by the Methodists. This was not done. As a result, one Manely Crosby, a trustee, sold the interest of the Methodists at public sale. For lack of bidders he purchased the building himself. The Methodists purchased the property from him in 1902 and have been using it since. The church celebrated its 100th anniversary in 1945. In 1958 the building was raised and a basement put under it. Many other improvements have been made. Plans were being made for extensive remodeling in 1969 including new floors and pews. In 1968 it was part of a three-point Charge with Spartansburg and Elgin Churches with the parsonage at Spartansburg. The 1968 membership was 117. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 88.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. A Methodist Class was organized at McKean in 1819 by Russell Stancliff at the hewed log house of Lemuel Stancliff about one-half mile south of the village with six members. Originally a part of the Wesleyville Circuit, the McKean Circuit was created in 1838. In 1860 McKean and Edinboro were made a Charge. A parsonage was built at McKean in 1872. The first frame Church building was erected in 1838. The deed for the church property is dated September 26, 1837 from Seth Stafford and his wife Eleanor to Joseph Bayle, Seth Stancliff, William Stafford, Joseph Weldon and Ludim Crouch, trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church. From the 1890's to 1920 McKean was on a circuit of five churches. They were McKean, Erie: Summit, McLean, Sterrettonia and South Hill. When South Hill and McLean closed, their members were transferred to McKean. In 1936 McKean became part of a circuit with Edinboro again and continued as such until 1958 when Edinboro became a station. It was in this year that McKean and Franklin Center were linked and remained until 1963 when McKean became a station. The new building was constructed in 1906 with major improvements in the early 1940's. The sanctuary was remodeled in 1956. An adjoining public school building was purchased in 1966 renovated and first occupied on April 7, 1968. The church was incorporated in 1967. The 1968 membership was 314. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 279.

Location: Located at 14522 South Main Street in the village of Mill Village on Route 6, six miles south of Waterford, in Erie County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The church grew out of a class organized in the home of Captain Robert King around 1810. Reverend Joshua Monroe was the first minister on what was then the Erie circuit. When the first church was built is not known except that it was erected one-half mile south of Mill Town. In 1860 the town was renamed Mill Village; the church being renamed accordingly, becoming part of a new circuit in 1865. The parsonage was erected in 1871. In 1878 the church was almost totally destroyed by fire. While repairs were being made Sunday School and church services were held in the Presbyterian church. A new church was built in 1889 in the Village on property bought from Robert M. Wallace. Using a team of horses Clyde Peters dug a basement beneath the church in 1912-1914. Fifty years later, in 1964, the basement was enlarged and completed for educational purposes. A part of the Wattsburg Circuit the Mill Village church membership in 1968 was 74. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 94.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. As early as 1812 the Daniels home was a Methodist preaching place. John Smith, David Jones, David Hanks, Thomas Wilder, Reuben Smith and William Waid were leading members. The new Church was built in 1858 on a lot donated by Levi Oakes. The Church was remodeled in 1886 with the belfrey and steeple added. The basement was excavated in 1958 and a new parsonage was purchased at Mount Hope in 1964. This Church has always been on a Circuit being associated with the Pine Grove Church in 1968. The membership in 1968 was 104. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 109.

It was replaced by a larger frame building on North Lake Street, in 1852. The new brick Church was erected in 1903 at a cost of $17 500. In 1960 an educational unit was added. This Church experienced a pulpit exchange in 1967 when its pastor, Reverend John Wright Gordon, exchanged pulpits and parsonages for the summer with the Reverend John Turner of Carlisle Memorial Methodist Church of Belfast Ireland under the direction of the World Methodist Council. The membership in 1968 was 669. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 620.

Erie-Meadville District

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. "The Church by the Side of the Road." The first meetings of the fellowship that was to grow into the State Line Church were held in a school house on the New York side of the line. In 1841 the first church building was erected on the present site and additions to it were made in 1878. The building has seen continuous service. In 1910 the structure was raised and a basement added. State Line has had circuit relationships with the Ripley and South Ripley churches until the re-districting in 1962. At that time the other churches were placed in the New York State Genesee Conference. In 1962 State Line church became an associate of the North East Methodist Church. In 1966 it was made a station charge to be served by a part-time supply pastor. Although a part of the Western Pennsylvania Conference this church serves members in both Pennsylvania and New York States. The 1968 membership was 68. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 67.

Location: Corner of Washington and 620 Euclid Streets in the Borough of Saegertown, in Crawford County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. In 1829 early Methodists joined with Lutheran and German Reformed persons to erect "Three Faiths Church". Prior to 1839 Reverend Matthew Simpson, later a Bishop, assisted in a protracted meeting that led to the organization of a Methodist society. In August 1839 the Erie Conference appointed Reverend John J. Steadman and Reverend James M. Plant as the first pastors. Some early members had belonged to the Seavy class as early as 1826. In 1841 the first Methodist house of worship was erected. On May 4, 1847 the society became a legal corporation. The original charter was revised in 1963. second building was erected in 1875 at a cost of $6900. This building burned in 1918 after a lightning strike. A brick structure was erected immediately afterwards. A Building and Improvement program started in 1961 and led to a major building expansion in 1968-1969. Prior to 1898 Saegertown was linked with various congregations: Blooming Valley, State Road, Pine Grove, Hamlin Chapel and Seavy's. From 1940 to 1956 Saegertown was a circuit with Woodcock and Venango. In 1961 a charge was formed with Blooming Valley, Pine Grove and State Road. Since 1963 Saegertown and Blooming Valley have been together as a charge for many years. It later became a one-point charge. Membership in 1968 was 285. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 488.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. This was a preaching place on the original Erie Circuit dating back to the early part of the nineteenth century. There is record of a powerful revival taking place here in 1827. The people in the McGill-Walker area of Harborcreek worshipped at the Hoag Schoolhouse in Lowry's Corners, which was the community's early preaching point. In 1841 a Church building was erected. In 1922 this structure burnt down but it was immediately rebuilt. It was in 1834 when South Harborcreek entered the Wesleyville Circuit but the word South in South Harborcreek did not appear until 1836. South Harborcreek remained on the Wesleyville Circuit till 1946. South Harborcreek and Henderson Churches were served in 1946-48 by Reverend J. Howard Anderson. In 1948 South Harborcreek formed a circuit along with State Line and South Ripley. In 1954 the South Harborcreek parsonage was completed and in 1955 South Harborcreek became a station Church. Educational Unit of proposed new structure was completed in 1960. This unit is now being used for worship and Sunday School and the former building is being maintained by the Church as a Youth Center. The membership in 1968 was 281. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 349.

Location: Located at 384 Main Street, in the Borough of Spartansburg on Route 71 in Crawford County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. Organized about 1837 by Reverend Ignatius H. Tackett. Meetings were first held in the Golden School House about one quarter mile west of the Borough. A Presbyterian Church was built and dedicated in 1849. This was later purchased by the Methodists. The new Church building was erected in 1877. The property was given by the Blakeslee family. Lumber was cut in surrounding forests and hauled to a local mill for finishing. About 1948 the building was raised and a basement was constructed under it. Many other improvements have been made since, including a new oak flooring, lowering of and installing a new ceiling, new pews, and in 1968 an electronic carillon was presented to the church in memory of one of the oldest members. Always on a Circuit in 1968 it is part of a three-point Charge with Elgin and McCray Churches with the parsonage at Spartansburg. The 1968 membership was 123. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 63.

SPRING BORO

METHODIST EPISCOPAL – ERIE CONFERENCE

ERIE-MEADVILLE DISTRICT

1828-1928

Location: Located on the north side of Cassawago Street, Spring Boro, Venango County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal – Erie Conference. The Spring Boro Methodist Class was organized on the upper floor of Butler’s Tannery in 1828 by Reverend Daniel Richey of the Albion Charge with five members. In 1829 the class was attached to the Conneautville Circuit with which it remained until 1867 when Reverend Wilford A. P. Eberhart, a local preacher, was employed as a supply. Spring Circuit was formed in 1868. The meetings of the Spring Boro class were transferred to the school house and a few years later to the second floor of Butler’s Store-Room at the Northeast corner of Main and Cassawago Streets. Here the little society worshipped until 1864 when a frame building was erected on the Northside of Cassawago Street at a cost of $1200. The building erected by the Anderson Furnace company was one of the earliest places of worship in Clinton Township. Here ministers of different denominations conducted religious services. Occasionally a Methodist brother and once a Mormon were permitted to occupy the sacred pulpit. In 1928 it became a Community Church.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. In the summer of 1799 Samuel Gregg and his family settled on Oil Creek, three miles south of Titusville. Mrs. Gregg had been converted under the preaching of John Wesley in Ireland. These were the grandparents of Reverend Samuel Gregg, author of the first history of Erie Conference. A

Erie-Meadville District

Methodist Class was organized in the Gregg home in 1804 by Reverend Andrew Hemphill on the original Erie Circuit of the Baltimore Conference and the Monongahela District. Between 1820 and 1850 the Class was reorganized several times. The first effort to erect a House of Worship was in 1860. This temporary "Lincoln Wigwam" was a board structure, octagonal in shape, without a floor, seats of rough boards nailed to posts driven in the ground, with an old oil barrel for a pulpit located on the corner of Perry and Pine Streets. Dissatisfied with this primitive structure a new wooden church was built in 1864 and it became a Station appointment that year. This church had the first church bell in Titusville and the bell is still used. A new stone church built in 1903 at the corner of Perry and Walnut Streets was destroyed by fire in 1952. It was rebuilt and enlarged in 1954. This Church served as host for the Annual Erie Conference sessions in 1876, 1904 and 1923. Membership in 1968 was 609. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 505.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The date of the organization of the Class is not known. They met in the schoolhouse for several years. In 1889 a revival was held by Reverend Hiram McClintock of Meadville. Because of the many decisions, Mrs. Jane Whitford decided a church was needed. Silas Kerr sold a piece of ground for $50.00 and a church was built mostly by donation labor. Reverend Silas Prather, presiding elder of the Meadville District, dedicated the Church on November 30, 1893. The church was moved back from the road in 1942 and placed on a basement. Extensive remodeling was completed in 1958. For many years it was a part of the Hydetown Charge with Hydetown and East Troy Churches. It was later put on the Titusville: Bethel/White Oak Charge. The membership in 1968 was 22. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 23.

Location: Located at 29 West Second Street, on Route 19, in the Borough of Waterford, in Erie County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The first Methodist Society in Waterford was formed in 1816 with the following members: Martha Rice, Phoebe J. Judson, Samuel Middleton, J. S. King and Dr. J. C. Curtis. The Society met at first in a building that had been used as a Cooper Shop. The Church was built in 1835 located on Cherry Street. In 1947 Waterford became a Circuit Charge with Summit Church added. In 1947 the Waterford Church building was destroyed by fire. In 1948 the United Presbyterian congregation of Waterford with buildings located on West Second Street merged with the homeless Methodists and became the Methodist Church. With this merger a new educational annex was built at the rear of the old Presbyterian building. In 1953 Waterford again became a Station. In 1956 the Bemis property, a private home adjoining the church property, was purchased for temporary Church School rooms. This building was vacated in 1968 when a new ten room educational annex was added to the existing Church building. The Bemis building was torn down in 1969 to make space for a parking lot. The parsonage was built in the 1930's and is located immediately adjacent to the Church building. This was obtained from the United Presbyterians at the time of the merger. The membership in 1968 was 414. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 497.

Location: Faces Route 474, Located at 9904 Jamestown Road in the Village of Wattsburg on Routes 8 and 474 in Erie County, PA.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The congregation was organized in 1827 by Elder Knapp who came to the Wattsburg area as a missionary in 1820. The first church was erected in 1831 on land purchased for $30 by Layman Robinson, William Hatch and John David, Trustees. The parsonage was built in 1851-1852. A new church was erected in 1861 at a cost of $3400; the former building housing the Stafford Grocery Store. In 1937 under the diligent work of Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell, president of the Ladies Aid Society, the church dining room and kitchen were added. The dining room was formerly the "Session Room" on the back of the Presbyterian church while the kitchen was built from portions of the parsonage barn. The church ceiling was lowered and class rooms were provided in 1949. Twenty years later in 1969 this 140 member congregation purchased 11 acres of land with the hope of building a new church for a growing community. Having had numerous Circuit relationships the congregation in 1968 was associated with Mill Village. The membership in 1968 was 140. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 121.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. The roots of this Church were in the Lexington Class on the original Erie Circuit of 1801. The first Church building was a frame structure erected in 1835 half-way between Cranesville and Wellsburg by the combined Societies of Cranesville and Wellsburg and known as the "Old Brown Church". In 1874 Cranesville and Wellsburg separated again into two congregations. In 1854 a Church had been built at Pleasant Valley. On December 4, 1874 a lot was deeded to the Wellsburg congregation by Lyman Clark and the Pleasant Valley Church was moved to it. On June 26, 1938 the congregation moved into the new building which was purchased from the Lundy Lane Baptist congregation. The property underwent extensive renovation between 1957 and 1961. The Church has been part of a three point Charge with Cranesville and Platea with the parsonage in Cranesville since 1899. The membership in 1968 was 64. The membership on January 1, 2003 was 30. Closed in 2003.

History: Methodist Episcopal - Erie Conference. This is the "mother church" of the original Erie Circuit. John Mershon, who settled in the western part of the town in 1796, married Bathsheba Brush from near Mapletown in Greene County in 1799. Mrs. Mershon and her brothers were Methodists and in 1800 she invited Reverend Joseph Rowan, the senior preacher on the Ohio Circuit, to come to the new settlement. He came in September 1800 preached six times in the Mershon home and laid out the Erie Circuit to which Reverend James Quinn was appointed as the first preacher in 1801. The first Quarterly Meeting of the Circuit was held in the Mershon home in 1801. The members of the Class were: John and Bathsheba Mershon, Daniel and Elizabeth Monroe, brother and sister of Reverend Joshua Monroe, and Andrew Stull. Mrs. Mershon's brothers moved to the community and in 1803 Jared Brush built a Church which was called the Brush Meetinghouse. Built of round logs and covered with clapboards, it was the first church building in the territory of Erie Conference. This Church was abandoned about 1815 and services were held in a log Schoolhouse on Ridge Road. This burned in 1825 and services were held in the home of Amasa Stewart. A frame Church was erected at East Springfield in 1833 and another, known as "The Cottage Church," was finished at West Springfield in 1836.

Erie-Meadville District
